THE ASIATIC PLAGUE

Blight Abatement of the Cholera in Hamburg.

ALL WHO CAN DESERT THE CITY.

Spurred the Canucks Into Action—A Screw Loose Somewhere—Scared and Indignant—No Reason to Fear an Epidemic.

THE PLAGUE IN HAMBURG.

HAMBURG, Sept. 1.—The thermometer has fallen to 70 degrees Fahrenheit to-day, and there have been several light showers. The air is cooler to-night than it was yesterday, but the temperature is still high.

Nevertheless, the fatigues of the plague have not been so considerable as to bring much comfort to the stricken city.

The most trustworthy reports give the number of new cases to-day as 68, and of deaths as 247.

The decrease in the number of new cases since yesterday is forty-two; in the number of deaths twenty-three.

These figures do not agree, however, with the reports of the custom house officials, who have increased the number of deaths to forty-five.

The city government has thus again declared for the fatuous policy of suppressing the facts, and its reports are received with ridicule.

The number of burials has fallen from 395 to 311.

Reports of an abatement of the plague, which emanate from official sources and are part of the general plan of concealing the situation. The people are too thoroughly frightened to be reassured by a slight change, which is likely to be succeeded to-morrow by a return of the high temperature and an increase of the plague.

The flight of persons who constitute the city's business and social world continues. About 10,000 persons left on the railroads to-day. All these were citizens with their families, as nonresidents practically deserted the city, early in the week. Most of them left their homes and their luggage will be sent after them.

Porters have left their posts and transportation companies are too short-handed to handle half the baggage of the fugitives, so that most of the families going away are obliged to leave behind what they themselves cannot carry.

Many postmen are among the victims to-day, and the delivery of the mails has been much retarded.

Postal and telegraphic business of the post office has fallen off to per cent in the last five days, and that apparently business correspondence was dead.

All the factories in operation are working short-handed and many factories have been closed for an indefinite period.

Families of workmen thrown out of employment have begun applying for aid.

In the harbor district great want is rapidly apparent. It is not so rapidly relieved, it will facilitate the progress of the plague among the ill-housed poor.

The number of physicians attending cholera patients is quite inadequate.

This state of affairs was apparent several days ago, but the municipal authorities neglected to call for aid from other towns.

The physicians who have been among the stricken from the first are now gone, by overwork, and there was but few left to take their places.

Almost a third of the deaths to-day are said to have taken place before any medical aid could be secured.

In the harbor district only about four patients among seven are able to secure physicians to treat them.

There is also great difficulty in getting enough nurses to replace those retiring from the hospitals, because of the killing work imposed upon them in the wards.

The physicians are now appealing for help this afternoon from the suburbs Horn and Hammerbrook, where the people have died by the dozen since daybreak.

Nurses, doctors and health officers are said to have left these suburbs almost unnoticed, and whole families have been wiped out without having had a word of advice or a prescription.

The hospital in the city is now overrun with patients.

The hospital in the rest of north Germany by official competency here is enormous. People fleeing from the city in the past few days have carried the infection to twenty-three other north German towns. In Lubec, Legitez, Buda, Bergedorf, Nukirch, in Upper Silesia, Delmenhorst, Magedburg and more than a dozen villages, the breaking out of the plague has been due directly to the arrivals from this port.

Spurred the Canucks Into Action.

MONTREAL, Can., Sept. 2.—The report that the United States government will put into effect a quarantine against the arrival of ships from the Asiatic coast has been checked.

Passenger Gross Ile has the effect of considerably awakening the authorities, who now express a determination to spare no expense to prevent the entry of the disease.

The local board of health has decided to meet three times a week till the 1st of November, and among other precautions has declared that the board shall work in conjunction with the health department, and that a board of consultation shall be appointed; that two more sanitary policemen be appointed, so as to insure the thorough inspection and cleaning of railway yards, lanes, houses, etc.; that physicians be appointed to watch the arrival and departure of railway trains, boats or other means of egress or ingress to the city; that authorized the securing of boats to be used as extra isolation hospitals in case of need, and the supplying of disinfectants and disinfecting appliances and ambulances are provided for, and arrangements will be made for the daily removal of garbage and night soil at once from now until the 1st of November.

The board will call upon the medical society for advice and assistance.

The harbor authorities have also decided to permit no vessel to enter the harbor without a clean bill of health for its supervision. Maj. McShane says he will leave no measures unexhausted to procure the best protection for the city.

A Screw Loose Somewhere.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—A high official at the custom house reported that the steamship Roman, from London, has landed ninety-eight passengers, who come from Russia, and has not only landed a lot of rags, but has shipped the greater part of them by rail for Cinchon. The rags are to be used in the making of waste for cleansing machinery. The custom house officials say that only a portion of the passengers were examined. The rags, which emitted a terrible smell, were fungated, and the ship and steamer were closed yesterday.

After the lawyers on each side had made their arguments Judge L. C. Smith said that sympathy should be laid upon the custom house officials.

Opening to the visitors conduct of the custom house officials.

After the hearing was adjourned to the November term.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 2.—The hearing in the case of Lizzie Borden Closed.

SYMPATHY AND SENTIMENT PUT ASIDE.

And Duty, Stern Duty Requires, Upon the Evidence, that she be Remanded to the County Jail and Held for Trial at the November Term.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 2.—The hearing in the case of Lizzie Borden was yesterday sworn out for the arrest of 300 men on the charge of rioting.

During the absence of Postmaster Tice the post offices at Peoria, Ill., N. Y., and Boston were looted by thieves, who got away with $176 in cash and $1,000 worth of post office property.

—Herr Zarwanka, chief of the customs service, at Troppau, the capital of Austrian Silesia, died of cholera yesterday. He is supposed to have contracted the disease from the examination of infected articles.

—The Guard Steamer, Co. came from Liverpool Wednesday to its Boston office that it may be in a position to ascertain whether the cholera danger still exists.

—A telegram from Hamburg to the British Minister of War, London, says that Hamburg is in some degree responsible for the alarming spread of cholera. The water system was constructed forty years ago when no such modern improvements had not been thought of.

Judge William R. Blaine, the ordinary of Clinton county, Ga., and one of the most popular men in the state, was captured and his money from the safe of Grover Michaelson by an officer secreted in the store to watch for thieves. Mr. Michaelson having lost nearly $1,000.

—John Kolos, a Hungarian, who has been in the county jail at Cleveland, O., since November 18, lost for murdering his wife, was released yesterday. The wife's body was cut down when it was found to be exhumed. The rope with which he hanged himself was made by twisting up a sheet.

—The circular issued by the treasury department regular measures to be taken to prevent the introduction of cholera into this country, provides that the following of vessels arriving from cholera-infested countries, and a detention of twenty days at quarantine for all vessels sailing on after September 1 conveying immigrants.

—All of the witnesses were ordered to recognize for the November term of court.

WESTERN HEADQUARTERS.

The Democratic Campaign of Education Fairly Opened.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The democratic campaign of education in the west was fairly opened yesterday when Dan M. Dickinson, chairman of the campaign committee met the representatives of seven western and northwestern states and a plan of campaign was laid out. The seven states in which the democracy expects to push the fight are Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, the two Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska.

—During the general exposition Mr. Dickinson will be in command of the western forces.

Mr. Dickinson's proxy as a member of the subcommittee will probably be given to either Mr. Dan Campau, FRIDAY EVE. SEPT. 2, 1892.

BOURNE COOCHMAN's great speech in the Chicago convention, telling why Cleveland could not be elected, is not being distributed as a Democratic campaign document.

ATLANTA (Ga.) National: "Old Grover" is playing his last as King of destiny too far when he overdoes the latter writing business so enormously and thinks it his duty to bore the public every day with some splash. But when he urged the pardon of a mean, malicious assassin, as he did in the case of Col. H. Clay King, he shocked the conscience of all law-abiding citizens. Quot writing letters, "Old Grover.

The Democrat review is probably the only Democratic organ which is now publishing the Democratic tariff plan as it was proposed by the convention. Even Henry W. Wadsworth, who is the reputed father of the tariff plank, has dropped the word "constitutional" as may be seen by referring to his remarks published in the Chicago Daily News Record of yesterday. The Democratic party is surely a brave party. It scores at nothing less than its own foot prints.

Crisp as a Tariff Doctor. It requires $400,000 a year to pay the expenses of the government. Of this amount we collect annually about $219,000,000 from duties on goods imported to this country from abroad. The modern Democratic free trader claims that this entire amount of duty is added to the price of these imports when the American consumer buys them. The free trader also claims that like products of our own manufacture are advanced by the same amount of duty paid on the imported article; that in this process the duty or tariff is not only a tax on the imported article the consumer buys, but also becomes a tax by advancing the price of the home-made article which the consumer buys.

If this were true the tax would amount to over $300 to each family in the United States, estimated on the amount of the imported and like home-made manufactures and other products consumed by our people. That such a condition is said to exist is ridiculous, and yet Cleveland and every other free trader assumes as much when he claims that protective tariff is a tax.

Last Tuesday Speaker Crisp made a free trade speech at Rome, Ga., in which

The Republicans say the foreigner pays the duty, but you see he does not. You pay it. Half of your product is taken every year in that way. You may say that you don't buy foreign goods, but then the foreign goods you pay the tax just the same. You pay the same price and the difference goes into the pocket of the protected manufacturer.

The people of Georgia pay about $16,000,000 a year in duties on foreign goods.

These are about $10 each annually. This money either goes to the Government as custom duties or it goes into the pocket of the protected manufacturers.

If, according to this free trade theory, the tariff is a tax on the consumer, Georgia's share of the direct duties paid would be $8.50 a head. Mr. Crisp estimates that the tariff costs the people of Georgia $10 a head; hence, he estimates that his people pay $6.50 a head annually, in advanced prices of home-made products on account of the tariff.

The fallacy of this position is apparent when we consider the fact that the people of Georgia consume twenty times as much home-made products upon the like of which, when imported there is a tariff as they consume of imported products; hence, if the free trade theory, that the tariff is a tax on the consumer on both imported and like home-made products, instead of the people of Georgia paying $10 a head, the tariff is a tax on the like of which, when imported there is a tariff as they consume of imported products; hence, if the free trade theory, that the tariff is a tax on the consumer on both imported and like home-made products, instead of the people of Georgia paying $10 a head as a tax, due to protection, they pay $80 a head or $800 a family. The ridiculousness of this free trade theory becomes, at once, apparent.

The commercial facts are that the price of goods, by the law of competition created by the diversification of our industry by protection, has been made cheaper to the consumer, and to-day every man can buy more of the necessities of life for a day's labor than at any time in the history of the government. There is more consolation to the broad-winner in this fact than in all the free trade theories ever advanced.

The Republicans and Asiatic Cholera.

Probably the most pusillanimous Democratic argument ever produced is contained in an editorial which appeared in the Chicago Herald yesterday. In it the Herald assumes that if the Asiatic cholera gains lodgment in the United States it will be because the Republican party brought it here. That an attempt should be made in this direction at this time shows that the Democratic party leaders are convinced of the weakness of their cause before the people. It is well known that Democratic leaders have depended in the past upon the scare-hopper and the chin-ching and other pests for argument but never before has it stooped quite so low as to serve notice that the Asiatic cholera would be used to do service for that party. The line of argument is that protection has operated to stimulate immigration to this country and that if the cholera comes it will be due to this cause. In this assumption there is the admission that protection has helped the laboringman's wages and this is the inducement that brings foreigners to our shores. There is also implied in all such sophistry that the Democratic party is responsible for encouraging foreign immigration in conflict and in competition with our own labor.

The same demagogues who make these charges also claim that the Republican party is organized hatred to all foreigners; that the party is a party of know-nothings which shows the insincerity of those who make these charges. The Democratic party assumes to be hostile to foreign immigration when trying to deceive the American laboring man, but when brought face to face with the question, it is forced to answer, it denies that it is hostile to such immigration. Not long since the Decatur Review, which has won the distinction of being a Democratic organ, became indignant when we accused the Democratic leaders of opposing foreign immigration. If the Democratic party is opposed to foreign immigration, why does it not so declare in its platform? If it is not opposed to it why is it continually assailing it? If the party is not opposed to foreign immigration and has never made an effort to stop it, why should the Republican party be responsible for Asiatic cholera if introduced by foreign immigrants?

A Democrat's Testimony. In his annual report Labor Commissioner Peck, a Democrat appointed by Governor Hull, says: "The returns from 6,000 manufacturers in New York State show that the McKinley bill has increased the wages of the workingmen; and further says:

ATLANTA (Ga.) National: "Old Grover" is playing his last as King of destiny too far when he overdoes the latter writing business so enormously and thinks it his duty to bore the public every day with some splash. But when he urged the pardon of a mean, malicious assassin, as he did in the case of Col. H. Clay King, he shocked the conscience of all law-abiding citizens. Quot writing letters, "Old Grover.

SUICIDE AT LANE STATION.

A. B. Johnson, a Well-Known Farmer, Hangs Himself.

THE BODY CUT DOWN BY THE SON.

Details of a Suicide Which Occurred Yesterday Morning—He Warns the Neighbors—A Desperate Man.

A. B. Johnson, a farmer residing in DeWitt county, one-half mile southwest of Lane Station, and a brother-in-law of Isaac A. Harkrader of this city, committed suicide yesterday morning by hanging. He leaves a divorced wife and two children, a son, Peter, and a daughter, He was 44 years of age. The details of the dead are as follows: Mr. Johnson, or "Al" as he was more familiarly known, was a hard drinker until a year or so ago, when he graduated from the Keeley Institute at Dwight. He was then got on his drunken spree he was very quarrelsome and bent and whipped his wife in a most shameful and cowardly manner. It was during one of these sprees that he whipped his wife and drove her away. The wife took the little daughter with her, while the boy remained with the father. By the death of Johnson's father, A. B. Johnson received a neat sum of money, but he had spent all this and a large amount which belonged to his wife. She managed, however, to have 80 acres of land, by deeding it to the children. This enraged Johnson and his abuse of his wife and children was awful. He threatened her repeatedly to deed the land to him claiming that he was unable to support his family without this additional property. Through the influence of two disinterested parties the settlement was effected several weeks ago by Mr. John Stewart, who was the attorney for the plaintiff.

The settlement was made satisfactory to Mr. Johnson. Another part of the contract was that Mrs. Johnson should receive a divorce, this being granted on Tuesday last at Clinton. On the day of the trial Mr. Johnson told his children that he intended to kill their mother and then commit suicide. But the children, fearing for their lives did not repeat what their father had said at the time. Johnson had undoubtedly made up his mind at that time to commit the deed which he so successfully carried out yesterday morning. While talking to his wife he was cheerful and appeared to be pleased with the granting of the divorce. But A. Harkrader, who attended the trial and was present at all of the meetings of the two parties, accompanied her and spoiled the plans of the demon. This was on Tuesday night. On Wednesday everything went on about the same and at supper time Johnson ate an unusual hearty meal, and after finishing went out to the house and spent the evening and it is thought he had no other purpose in view than that of wilful murder.
